E. F. RICHARDSON,
Treasurer.

I have examined the books of the treasurer, found vouchers for all charges, and his accounts correctly cast.

EDMUND F. LOVELL,
Auditor.

The selectmen organized as follows : Jeremiah H. Shannon as chairman ; John H. Ingraham, clerk ; George F. Holbrook, superintendent of streets.

Your board had many things to contend with in the way of expenditure that were not provided for in the regular appropriations for the year. The state road was a source of danger, as it could not be finished before winter set in, and many complaints were entered. We did what we could, and at an expense of $196.51. It was put in first class shape and was accepted by the highway commission. We have on hand a pump valued at $14.40. The sewer on Main street became frozen, and all the cellars in the vicinity were flooded. It was remedied at an expense of $35.00. Baltimore bridge washed away in April and $99.22 was required. Collins bridge was repaired at an expense of $65.00. The culvert on Main and Spring streets were relaid for $23.45. We made a contract with Simpson Bros. of Boston to build a stone sidewalk on Exchange street to junction of Union from R. R. crossing 8354.17 square feet at a cost of $1,900.21, and $69.26 for grading the same.

The board had petitions for relaying out Acorn street from Spencer to land of J. Obst; cost $25.00. Widening Exchange street to correspond to sidewalk in P. O. square.

Wight street was attended to as per vote of the town.

The above streets were surveyed and blue prints are in the hands of the town clerk expense, $12.00.

The Forest street affair is still unfinished.

We granted permits to the Medfield Electric Light & Power Co., to erect poles on Myrtle and Union streets, and contracted with them for 25 lights (10 of which were to replace those of the year before) at a cost of $13.50 per light for three years. Making in all 125 lights that the town is now paying for.

The guide boards and bill boards are in good condition.

The tramp house wall is in bad shape and must be re-laid in the spring. We recommend to the community that an appropriation be granted for the same; also money for bridges and sidewalks, so that what money is granted for highways may be used for that alone.

We perambulate the town line between Millis and Medway Oct. 14, and Millis and Holliston Nov. 25, and found all the bounds in good shape.

We gave 2 pool, 2 junk and 1 slaughter house licenses.

Following are the expenditures under their direction:

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

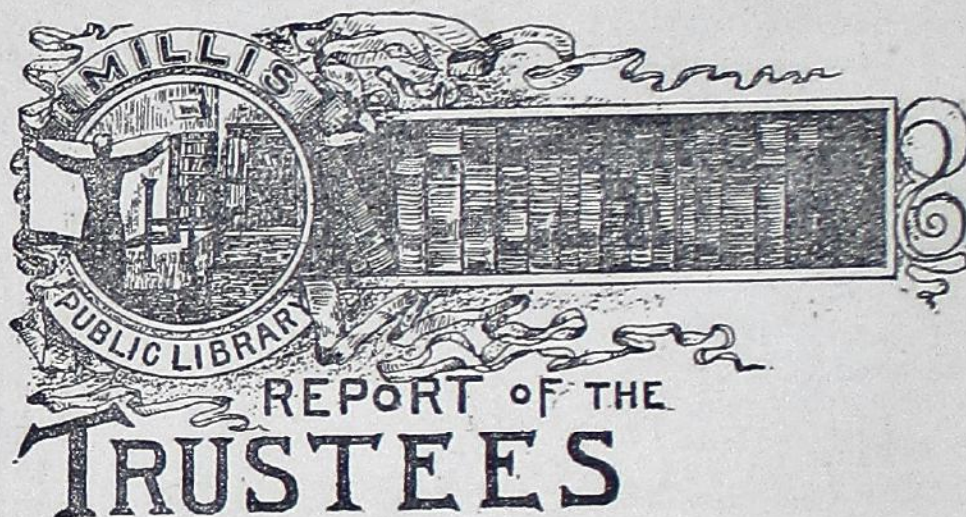

I submit to you my report for the year as inspector. One complete inspection of all the neat cattle and the condition of the premises where said cattle were kept. The written report of the conditions and of the cattle has been sent to the Cattle Bureau. There were at the time of inspection 58 stables, in which were kept 698 cattle. During the year 6 cattle have been quarantined for Tuberculosis, after the usual course of investigation 4 were condemned and killed, 1 was released, and 1 is still in quarantine.

Respectfully submitted,

TREE WARDEN'S REPORT.

Thirteen trees were planted mostly in place of dead ones, making the labor nearly double as the old stumps had to be removed. The centre of the town is in a very good condition, but on some of the outside streets the shade trees need trimming badly.

REPORT OF STATE AGENT.

Stoneham, Mass., Feb. 1, 1906.

To Chairman of School Committee,
Millis, Mass.

Since the opening of the schools in September last, I have been able to make three visits to the Millis high school.

The teachers of the school began the year with the determination to make it a successful one, as far as in them lay, both in the spirit of the instruction and in the work of the pupils; and I think I can justly say that no two teachers have worked harder than they have to this end.

There is, too, a marked improvement in the work of the pupils, and in conduct, in application to study, and in the preparation of the work assigned them the majority of them now show a disposition that I sincerely hope in future visits to see extended through the whole school. Boys and girls entering the high school with certain primary and grammar school habits of depending on the teacher to smooth the way over all difficulties, and with a juvenile vagueness of comprehension and expression, and often with little ability to read even simple statements understandingly, need first of all, to acquire the power of mental concentration and application; to develop self-reliance and perseverance in overcoming difficulties, and to form the habit of doing things well and just right; and if the pupils do not assist in the acquisition of these attainments, it will be up-hill work to educate them.

Another thing in the management of a small town high school needs to be kept in mind. The teachers for certain reasons need perhaps to be college graduates, and necessarily, one or both of them (where there are but two) must be of quite recent standing. Hence comparatively fresh from years of exclusive devotion to studies that are believed to make for liberal education and for culture, they become more or less rusty in all these things that pertain to the practical affairs of life; and when as teachers in high schools they are called upon to teach these practical branches, such as commercial studies or the sciences in the light of their daily application to the work of the world, they find themselves forced to develop this side of an education anew, and it requires time. I am glad to be able to say that it is in this latter respect that the instruction in the Millis high school is making some of its most commendable progress.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. MACDONALD,
Agent of State Board of Education.
